First edition in Rome, Italy 2014

EU funded Marine Robotics and Applications

Researchers and users of marine robotic technology are invited to EMRA2014. The WORKSHOP shall summarize current EU FP7 marine robotics research, and provide a platform for marine stakeholders to share their current technological challenges.

For researchers, EMRA2014 will offer dissemination opportunities for existing work, and highlight new application areas for consideration in future work. For marine research stakeholders, EMRA2014 will offer novel approaches to solve marine challenges, and a platform for directing future research threads.

Researchers and end-users of marine robotics technology are kindly invited to attend EMRA2015.

The workshop will summarize current EU FP7 and H2020 projects on marine robotics and provide a platform for marine stakeholders to share and discuss current technological challenges and achievements.

To researchers:

EMRA2015 will offer the opportunity to disseminate current work and highlight new application areas that warrant further R&D effort.

To marine stakeholders:

EMRA2015 will allow for the cross-fertilization of ideas and offer novel approaches to meet future challenges in ocean ocean exploration and exploitation.

EMRA'15 workshop

Program:

- 11 EU Projects; Representatives from the industry.
- Invited talks: issues that are at the crossroads of marine technology, science, and commercial applications (deep sea mining, offshore wave/energy, marine habitat mapping, oceanography, marine megafauna tracking).

-  - Location (Instituto Superior Técnico, IST)

Located in one of the central-most parts of Lisbon, the Alameda Campus of IST benefits from a transport network that facilitates mobility to all the areas of the city. In its vicinity, there are many shopping, leisure, culture, entertaining and sports areas.
